

SYSTEMATIC LITERATURE REVIEW

The FIRST and essential step in research process

Determine what is already known about proposed research topic

Appraise the quality of research

Synthesize the research evidence from the studies of the highest quality

Identify research gaps and priorities for generating new evidence to fill the gaps

Avoid unnecessary duplication of research

Shape future research project and inform research plan